NOCKS OUT BAR ON INSURANCE POLICY 'TWISTERS'

Supreme Court, Division No. 1, Refuses to Sustain Refusal of License to Ray P. Prewitt.

DECLARIS OFFICIAL OVERSTEPPED POWER

Right to Contract as He Pleasees Should Be Preserved to Each Individual, Opinion Says.

The Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Dec. 6.—A division of the Missouri Insurance Department, declaring the so-called practice of "twisting," or forcing life insurance policyholders to change their insurance from one company to another, was sufficient cause for revoking or refusing to issue an insurance broker's license to Ray P. Prewitt of St. Louis.

Thompson's Action in 1930. The Insurance Superintendent, Mr. Thompson had refused to issue such a license to Prewitt, 1930, after a hearing which Thompson had sustained charges Prewitt had engaged in the practice of "twisting."

The department defines "twisting" as the act of inducing, or attempting to induce the holder of a life insurance policy to surrender it and to take out a new policy with another company represented by an agent or broker who has the change.

The department's opinion held the advice might be direct or indirect, and that misrepresentation was not a necessary element of the offense.

Commissioner John T. Sturgis, who gave the opinion, held the law statute giving the Insurance Superintendent discretionary powers in issuing or revoking licenses was not broad enough to him with the power and authority assumed under the regulation.

The regulation has been in effect since 1915.

Defense Official's Power. The Commissioner held the law designed to authorize the superintendent to adopt necessary measures to enforce statutory regulations as to licenses, but he was not authorized him to make regulations or impose restrictions on the force of new statutes.

The court declined to comment on the merits of policies Prewitt sold for the Lincoln National Insurance Co.

Commissioner Sturgis said, "The point we desire to make in connection is that, after all, the contract as he pleased to preserve to each individual, unless the contract is made with fraud or induced by misrepresentation."

He suggested that insurance companies, through restrictions on "twisting," may "find it in their business policy to co-operate with each other to this extent, rather than engage in competition in character," but that it did not appear to call for the State to use its authority in the matter of police power.

One of the four Judges of Division No. 1 concurred in the Commissioner's ruling.

R. F. C. INVESTS $93,700,000 IN NEW YORK BANKS

Chairman Jones Announces Purchase of Capital Notes or Preferred Stock in 12 Depositories.

PART OF PLAN TO EXPAND CREDIT

Other Advances of $75,000,000 Previously Made in Metropolis — Various Groups Favor Project.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6. — The Government yesterday became a partner in more than half of the leading banks of New York City with the selling by 12 institutions of $93,700,000 of their capital notes and preferred stock to the Reconstruction Corporation.

The sale was announced by Jesse H. Jones, corporation chairman, who said that while the banks did not need the capital, the action had lent weight to the administration's program of strengthening the banking system throughout the country.

The Savings Banks Trust Co., formed recently by a group of New York savings banks, previously had sold $50,000,000 of its capital notes to the corporation and the Manufacturers' Trust Co. had sold $25,000,000.

Commenting on the action of the banks, Jones said:

"The participation of New York City banks in the Reconstruction Finance Corporation in the preferred stock and capital note program for increasing the capital of banks throughout the country will give greater impetus to the plan by encouraging banks everywhere to place themselves in stronger capital position so as to better respond to the credit demands of industry and business."

Participants: New York Banks.

The banks that made applications yesterday were:

Banks of Manhattan Co., $3,000,000 capital notes; Bank of New York and Trust Co., $1,000,000 capital notes; Bankers' Trust Co., $5,000,000 capital notes; Central Hanover Bank and Trust Co., $3,000,000 capital notes; Chemical Bank and Trust Co., $1,000,000 capital notes; Corn Exchange Bank and Trust Co., $3,000,000 capital notes; Fifth Avenue Bank, $200,000 capital notes; Fulton Trust Co., $250,000 capital notes; Guaranty Trust Co., $20,000,000 capital notes; Lawyers' County Trust Co., $250,000 capital notes; Marine Midland Trust Co., $1,000,000 capital notes, and National City Bank, $50,000,000 preferred stock.

The banks that sold capital notes are State banks, which under New York law, cannot issue preferred stock. Jones said, however, the capital notes in every respect except name are the same as preferred stock.

Jones Promoted Plan.

The sale of the bank notes and stock was regarded here as a personal triumph for Jones, who has been working for months to induce banks to take part in the preferred stock plan as a means of making it more attractive to the smaller banks throughout the country.

He has conferred a number of times with New York Clearing House officers, and during a recent trip through the South made addresses explaining the plan.

After his trip Jones said clearing houses in large cities, including New York, Pittsburgh, Houston and Memphis, had notified the corporation of their approval.

The administration plan, as explained by Jones, is to get the banks into a position where they will have adequate funds to lend to business for spreading employment and building up purchasing power. It is hoped that with the added capital many of the smaller banks will be more free in making loans, and also some that otherwise would not be able to afford the Federal deposit insurance plan.

STATE THAT ENDED PROHIBITION STILL DRIES UP

Utah Convention Rids Constitution of 18th Amendment But State Law Stands.

By the Associated Press.
SALT LAKE CITY, Dec. 6.—Utah added the thirty-sixth ratification to the twenty-first amendment putting an end to Federal prohibition, at 8:31 p. m., Mountain time, yesterday.

Ironically, Utah's ratification had no effect on the legal alcoholic content of Utah's own beverages. The State still is dry.

Sam B. Thurman, a repeat leader in the recent campaign in the States and last on the list of delegates to the convention, was before announcing his vote to point out that it was the final act in a long series which would render operative the prohibition amendment.

A cheer that arose from delegations and guests disrupted for a minute the proceedings of the convention and it was not until 8:32 p. m. that Ray L. Olson, president of the convention, had restored order to announce Utah's ratification.

The vote came at the close of a reading of a report of the Resolutions Committee, that incorporates the history of repeal from the submission by Congress to the constitution. It was read by Dr. L. C. Obrock, chairman of the committee, who had earlier delivered an address in which he condemned the eighteenth amendment as having been pressed on the nation without the vote of the people.

As soon as the vote was announced, A. S. Brown, one of the delegates, delivered a greeting speech from Roosevelt conveying "love and confidence" of the convention and the citizens of Utah.

Notification of the convention was telephoned by Ute, Secretary of State Welling direct to President Roosevelt and the State Department in Washington, where a direct wire set up in the Capital for the purpose.

Wife Sues Herbert F. Willson.
Suit for divorce was filed yesterday by Mrs. Bebe Williams, widow of Lindell Tower, against Herbert F. Willson of Cincinnati. Dr. Orock informed his wife he had earlier delivered an opinion that the dog, which died after biting the six persons, was not afflicted with rabies. Four of Those Bitten Testify.

The four others who were bitten by the dog testified, in substance, that Orock informed them he did not think the dog had rabies and that the serum treatment was necessary.

One of the men bitten, Dr. Miltonovitz, told how he and Gilbert Fleming, whose father died after being bitten, took the dog's carcass to the day it died.

Miltonovitz conceded they expressed the opinion the dog did not have rabies, since it was a perfectly gentle neighborhood pet.

The health officer told them to turn in two days, after he had examined the dog's brain. When they so he continued, they were informed no serum was necessary since the dog did not have rabies and there was "nothing to worry about."

Treatment Refused.

But later, two days after James Fleming died, Otto Hale, 21, of Milwaukee, demanded the treatment he was "running the office" because he was "running the office" he didn't need it.

Dr. Bales, father of the fatally bitten boy, testified Dr. Orock told him he wouldn't give the serum to his son.

Ottie Hale, the man bitten, said the health officer had refused him treatment, though he had sought it by the office of County Judge Wehmeyer as a veterinarian.

Dr. R. B. H. Gradowich, pathologist, testified that tests with materials from the brains of two dogs had resulted fatally for several rabbits and guinea pigs.

Dr. Harris, who administered the serum treatment to the four men bitten, after they were admitted to St. Louis General Hospital, stated the National Pathological Laboratories, which issued the serum on the dog, was competent.

State Health Commissioner McElroy, of the State Board, presided at the meeting.

"Madame X" Heckling the Chairman At New York Anti-Lynching Meeting

Four Bitten by Dog Testify at State Board Hearing of Allegations Against Dr. L. C. Obrock.

Declare He Refused Direct Requests for Serum Treatment—Two of Six Attacked Died.

The State Board of Health opened hearing at Clayton today on charges preferred by the St. Louis County Court against Dr. L. C. Obrock, County Health Commissioner, accusing him of dereliction of duty failing to advise the Pasteur treatment for six persons bitten by dog last February, two of whom died.

Embodying in 10 counts, the charges include the contention that he failed to investigate properly the circumstances pertaining to the injuries inflicted by the dog last year in the Riverview Gardens neighborhood.

Attorneys were present representing the families of James Fleming, who died April 8, and Roy Bales, 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bales, who died April 16.

Notification of the conviction was telephoned by Ute, Secretary of State Welling direct to President Roosevelt and the State Department in Washington, where a direct wire set up in the Capital for the purpose.

permit difficulties hindered the flow in Indiana; the Washington, Oregon and Missouri Legislatures still wrestled with the problem; in Massachusetts sales permits were issued slowly.

Ohio, after ratifying the amendment at 2:45 p. m. yesterday, rejected a motion to adjourn.

Meanwhile, all domestic distillers who were operating yesterday when repeal was proclaimed, under medicinal liquor permits and under previous allocations made by the Treasury, got 30-day temporary operating permits.

The distillers will be permitted to remain in operation pending inquiry as to whether they will qualify under the code authority set up by the industry. It was estimated that 125 plants were in operation.

At the Federal alcohol control administration it was said that the old war tax of $6 a barrel on beer of 3.2 per cent would apply. The 3.2 beer will continue to bear the $5 a barrel tax.

Negotiations continued with other countries for trade pacts whereby their spirits and wines might be exchanged for American farm surpluses.

Governmental realignments were ordered. Among other things, the prohibition unit of the Justice Department became the Alcohol Beverage Unit; the Bureau of Industrial Alcohol was merged with the Internal Revenue Bureau. The 1200 prohibition agents in the field will, for the time being, help enforce the revenue laws in liquor states and aid local officers in enforcing the laws in those that remain dry.

Difficulty in the States.

The regulatory problem is causing difficulty in the states. The 20 in which the sale of spirits became legal with repeal were Massachusetts, Connecticut, Pennsylvania, Wisconsin, Colorado, Arizona, California, Washington, Louisiana, New York, Delaware, Illinois, Indiana, New Mexico, Nevada, Montana, Oregon, Maryland, New Jersey and Rhode Island.

In Colorado issuance of the first revenue licenses was postponed until today; Wisconsin first sales were limited; Rhode Island quickly exhausted its immediate supply;

Expert Gives Views.

Response to hypothetical question Dr. Harris, who has specialized in rabies for 25 years, gave as opinion that a public health report should not accept a laboratory report without investigating circumstances of the bite and a health officer should be consulted with a private pathologist with methods of controlling infectious diseases.

Pointing out that rabies sometimes does not disclose definite evidence, Dr. Harris said that a physician versed in rabies should determine from the fact that a dog had bitten several persons that there was something wrong with the dog.

Bennett P. North, president of the State Board, presided at the meeting. Sitting with him were Health Commissioner McElroy, of the State Board, of Kansas City; Dr. T. S. Bourne of Kansas City; Dr. W. A. Clark of ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Dec. 6.—Four more men were held at police headquarters here today for questioning in connection with the lynching of Maurice S. Falle, treasurer of the company, in a suit for false arrest and malicious prosecution, in Circuit Judge Mueller's court at Clayton.

Herchenroeder was credit manager for the company's St. Louis branch until May 1, 1931, when it was sold. He said he retained $2500 in collections, since the company owned him $300 in commissions.

A charge of embezzlement brought in, and Maurice S. Falle, treasurer of the company, was dismissed following a preliminary hearing a year ago.

The jury's verdict included $8500 for actual damages and an $8500 punitive judgment.

DIVORCE SUIT WITNESSES GET DECREE FOR THEMSELVES

Meyerson Case Disposed of While Fair Wait to Testify in Walsh Suit.

While awaiting resumption of a divorce hearing in which they were witnesses, Mrs. Helen Meyerson, 55, Clement Avenue, and Wilton Meyerson, traffic manager for a furniture store, were divorced yesterday in Circuit Judge Ossing's court.

Carl Fisher, 24 years old, the first person arrested in connection with the lynching, had a special guard at the county jail today, following his request for special protection.

He told authorities that fellow prisoners had threatened him because of their belief he had given investigators information. Fisher is awaiting sentence on his plea of guilty to a charge of receiving a pistol stolen from the office of Sheriff Otto Thiesen the night of the lynching.

Meyerson and his wife were witness in the suit and cross-suit for divorce of Mr. and Mrs. David Walsh, 4222 Evans Avenue. Mrs. Meyerson testified for Mrs. Walsh and Meyerson for Walsh. The case was continued to yesterday morning, when the Meyerson suit was dismissed. As it was an uncontested case, it was disposed of before resuming the Walsh hearing.

Mrs. Meyerson obtained a divorce on ground of general indignities and $10 weekly alimony. The Walsh case was taken under advisement.

MISSOURI CHAIN STORE TAX KILLED IN COMMITTEE

Measure Was Similar to That Which Failed at Regular Session.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Dec. 6.—The House Committee on Taxation and Revenue this afternoon voted to kill a bill proposing a graduated schedule of annual license taxes for chain stores.

The bill, introduced by Representative Roberts of St. Francois County, proposed taxes varying from $25 a year for each store in a chain of five or fewer, up to $200 a year for each store in a chain of 25 or more. A similar bill failed of passage in the regular session earlier this year.

The use of whisky prices.

Under the head of distilled spirits, which was 25 cents a drink in the old days, is now listed at 30 cents. Cocktail prices are correspondingly up, being 25 and 30 cents. Jamaica rum, formerly $2.25 a quart, is $3. Imported gin is indicated by blank spaces opposite the names of most brands on the new cards. Imported brands are about three times the old prices.

Draught beer is now 10 and 15 cents a glass, 20 and 25 cents a Stein.

Although the price models have been increased, W. C. Cowling, chief of the Ford sales division, said there will be a reduction of $10 to $35 in the price of commercial cars. The new models were given a pre-view at a private showing held here by Henry and Edsel Ford.

From leading prohibitionists came warnings that the fight was not over yet. O. G. Chrisig, executive assistant to the superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, said that "so long as the liquor traffic exists the fight will continue this intolerable evil will go on."

The eighteenth amendment was formally repealed at 4:31 p. m. yesterday (St. Louis time). The Utah convention delegates had decided to meet at night in order that Utah might be certain of being the thirty-sixth state to ratify the twenty-first amendment. DR.

Robert Lentine.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Dec. 6.—

Revocation of the physician's license by the State Board of Health after he had served a jail sentence in Illinois for participation in a medical "diploma mill," was sustained today by Division No. 1 of the Missouri Supreme Court.

The board revoked Lentine's license on June 11, 1930, on evidence that Lentine had been convicted in Chicago of having a part in the sale of fraudulent medical diplomas.

Lentine had been licensed as a physician in Missouri in 1929, through a court proceeding, after the Board of Health ruled he had failed to pass an examination.

Lentine served a two-month sentence in jail under the Illinois conviction.

Commissioner Charles L. Ferguson, who wrote the opinion adopted by the court, overruled claims

Lentine's attorney had discharged

"unprofessional and discreditable conduct," and of "bad moral character" in the formal complaint filed before the board, were vague and did not constitute a cause of action, under the law. The attorney's con-

Lentine was not guilty of acts as a licensed physician, under the medical law, which would give the court any jurisdiction to revoke his license.

The Commissioner held the law was broad enough to cover the offense charged against Lentine, and that the board was fully within its jurisdiction in revoking the license.

"It would not be practicable to carry out the purpose of the statute," the Commmissioner said, "to undertake to catalogue, list or specify each and every act or case of conduct which would, or render what circumstances, constitutive of bad moral character or unprofessional and discreditable conduct. We do not think the Legislature intended to do so."

The four Judges of Division No. 1 concurred in the opinion.

Urschel "Informer" Found Insane.
By the Associated Press.
DECATUR, Tex., Dec. 6.—J. A. Morgan, Wise County farmer, who wrote letters to Charles F. Urschel telling him that he had $69,740 of the $200,000 ransom paid for Urschel's release buried on his farm, has been found to be of unsound mind by a county court jury.

FARMERS FIND WAYS TO DODGE CROP REDUCTION

Those Who Did Not Sign Wheat Agreement Planting More Than Before, It Is Reported.

Many farmers and stock raisers of Illinois and Missouri are doubtful that the Government's crop and hog reduction campaign will result in the decreases expected, because of violation of the letter and spirit of the plan, they said in recent talks with a Post-Dispatch reporter at the Missouri Stockyards.

Unless nature intervenes to curtail acreage production, the 1934 corn and wheat crops will be larger than this year's yield in spite of the Government's plans, some predicted.

One of the major criticisms by practical farmers is that wheat growers who did not sign a contract to reduce acreage 15 per cent are planting more wheat than before, expecting increased market prices and profits as a result of the Government's program.

Secretary of Agriculture Wallace announced Oct. 1 that wheat farmers had signed up the equivalent of about 80 per cent of the average national seeded wheat acreage.

But the farmer, as a result of his closer perspective of actual conditions, points out that the 15 per cent acreage reduction the signer agreed on was naturally his poorest land and his agreement does not mean 15 per cent less of his yield in bushels of wheat, because he kept his richest-yielding acreage in the 85 per cent planted.

Some farmers also say there were false statements made in contracts, as signed by acre under wheat cultivation during the last three to five years, in order to build up the average individual quota. The statements of total yield were accepted in most counties by the wheat control committee, the names and quotas published, and the figures accepted unless complaint was made.

Another form of evasion related was the practice of renting land from a neighbor by a family member of a farmer who has signed the reduction agreement, and the use of seed and farm machinery belonging to the head of the family to plant a wheat crop on the rented tract.

Provisions of the wheat contract forbid the cultivation of the 15 per cent acreage set aside except for home use and certain non-yield crops, but the rented land in this form of evasion, farmers said, is usually former wheat land or was under cultivation for other crops.

Congressman Plants Wheat.

Referring to an outstanding example of violating the spirit of the Government's efforts, one farmer from Missouri, a Congressman, who had not raised a wheat crop in five years planted 160 acres this year. He had not signed a contract because he could claim no past average wheat acreage.

Details of contracts for the corn and hog reduction program, providing for a 20 per cent cut in corn producing acreage and 25 per cent hog reduction, based on past annual averages, have not been announced by Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, but some farmers and stock-raisers already see signs of failure in the main provisions made public.

They hold the opinion that there never was a time that a crib of corn was anything but an asset on a farm for stock feeding, that the plans are against nature and crop rotation, and they don't believe there will be sufficient signers to get the desired reduction in yield.

One Form of Evasion.

One possible form of evasion, as outlined by some farmers, is: A farmer's past average is 100 acres in corn. He contracts with the Government for cash benefits to plant only 80 acres. He plants part of his old field, and sows the remaining acres of his quota in rich unexhausted land, and, unless weather conditions are unfavorable, produces a big yield of corn as he would on the old 100-acre field.

Now, can some stock raisers see the effectiveness of the hog reduction plan, principally because of these reasons: First, there is no control over the output of the breeder who does not sign; secondly, the plan will not effectively prevent a farmer from producing more pigs than his quota and selling them to others who have not signed, or to the large-scale hog-fattener. Thirdly, there has been a steady decrease in the market price of hogs since the Government's hog-buying program in October with its accompanying processing tax, the farmer attributes the market price decrease to a drop in consumer demand. As the process tax, in effect since Nov. 11, is scheduled to increase to $2 a hundred pounds by Feb. 1, he believes the constant demand will constantly decrease, and, with the loopholes in production control, result in a glutted hog market within a year.

John W. Fitzjarrell of Greenfield, Ill., member of the Advisory Board of the United States Livestock Association and a Washington representative on reduction measures, said he has found the farmer "98 per cent patriotic in his willingness to aid the Government, but without a great deal of faith in the reduction measures because they are not applicable to general conditions, and will result in an increased cost to the consumer without accomplishing the objective reductions, and without a compensating gain to the farmer and stock-raiser."

APPEAL OF BISHOP CANNON ARGUED IN SUPREME COURT

Chairman Attacks Corrupt Practices Act Under Which He Has Been Indicted.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—Bishop James Cannon Jr. was present in Supreme Court yesterday while his counsel urged the court to declare invalid the Corrupt Practices Act under which the churchman has been indicted.

The Bishop and his secretary, Add L. Burdette, exchanged with him to report a $65,000 contribution received from E. C. Jameson of New York for use of the anti-Smith Democratic organization in the 1928 presidential campaign.

Unless nature intervenes to curtail acreage production, the 1934 corn and wheat crops will be larger than this year's yield in spite of the Government's plans, some predicted.

One of the major criticisms by practical farmers is that wheat growers who did not sign a contract to reduce acreage 15 per cent are planting more wheat than before, expecting increased market prices and profits as a result of the Government's program.

SWOPE'S INDUSTRIAL CONTROL
PLAN CRITICIZED BY CATHOLICS

Speakers Say It Falls Short of Standards Set in Encyclical of Popes.

DETROIT, Mich., Dec. 6.—Gerard Swope's proposed plan for industrial control came in for criticism during the concluding sessions here yesterday of the Catholic Conference on Industrial problems. Speakers criticised the plan on the ground that it fell short of the standards set in the encyclicals of Popes Leo XIII and Pius XI.

"The Swope plan was intended to set up an organized plutocracy in the United States," asserted the Rev. E. A. McGowan, Washington Assistant Director of the Social Action Department of the National Catholic Welfare Conference. "We don't want the Swope plan because we can't get all that the encyclicals require," he continued. "Representatives of the employed must be on the controlling boards and the Government must have a supervisory hand on the whole thing."

Dr. J. E. Hagerty, Columbus, O., national director of the conference said that while the Swope plan coincides in most respects with the plan for reorganizing industry proposed by Pope Pius XI, the Pope "apparently would give employees an equal share in controlling industry."

Dr. Hagerty said that the National Industrial Recovery Act was not carrying out the recommendations of the encyclical of Pope Pius XI. He added, however, that "the NRA program does not fail to carry out the industrial teaching of the great pontiffs." Pius and Leo, than any acts of legislation or programs of Government in ancient or modern times."

Forrest, Mrs. E. M. Biddle Weds.

RENO, Nev., Dec. 6.—Mrs. Maria Dale Biddle of Philadelphia and William Starling Burgess, New York yacht builder, were married here last night by Prof. Reuben Thompson, retired Baptist clergyman. The bride, who was divorced from Edward M. Biddle, said she was 31 years old. Burgess, who was divorced here last October by Mrs. Elsie J. Burgess, said he was 54.

COMMON head colds often "settle" in throat and chest where they may become dangerous. Don't take chances—at the first sniffle rub on Children's Musteroles once every hour for five hours.

Children's Musteroles is just good old mustard in a milder form—bringing ease in five minutes, and relief in five hours as a rule.

It gets such marvelous results because it's NOT just a salve, but a "counter-irritant"—quick and helpful in drawing out pain and infection.

Used by millions for 25 years. Recommended by many doctors and nurses. All druggists. In three strengths: Regular Strength, Children's (mild), and Extra Strong.

Stop Unpleasant Breath

Thousands of people afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know.

Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and generally purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

Olive Tablets bring no gripping pain or any disagreeable effects.

Dr. F. W. Borchardt discovered the formula after 20 years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the assistance of his brother, Dr. F. W. Borchardt.

Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound; you will know them by their olive color. Take nightly for a week and note the effect. 15c, 30c, 60c.

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH

ASKS GERMANS IN U.S.
TO BE NAZI BOOSTERS

Von Papen's Paper Calls for Spreading of Propaganda in Foreign Lands.

The Associated Press.

BERLIN, Dec. 6.—Appealing directly to Americans of German descent to make propaganda for Germany, the German organ of Vice-Chancellor Franz von Papen has listed what it calls "instructions for Germans abroad."

In a long discussion wherein the value of propaganda is stressed, the paper urges each German-speaking person abroad to become a bearer of the "new Reich's idea."

Reciting successes achieved by Hitler in Germany, the newspaper says Germany can accomplish the same things by the same methods.

"Propaganda for Germany is a question of honor and duty," it is said. "The German abroad must become the speaking tube for Germany, he must recount the will to live, the will to work, of the German people."

The paper says this is particularly necessary in districts taken from Germany by the provisions of the treaties.

"Not only in these districts," the paper says, "but also wherever Germans live in more or less good understanding with the host nation, as for example in America, where many Germans have possessed citizenship for generations."

Germans abroad are advised by the paper to keep quiet about German industry, concentrating on collecting contracts covering an entire branch of industry.

Discussing the possibility of using advertising lineage as pressure on editorial opinion the paper continues:

"In similar fashion must the advertising placement be centralized. It is to be regretted, but nevertheless true that a number of German papers without losing it, advertise in some foreign newspapers whose reading texts engage in the nastiest rantings against Germany. "It must be possible here to group all German industries together for the purpose of joint advertising insertions. German-speaking people abroad could form central offices to deliver newspapers."

"Only through this united action in handling insertions can the propaganda power be increased, and so, by successful pressure (directed) upon political tendency which, from the German side, would be rewarded by orders to consolidate newspapers."

"With a strong and courageous subsidy from the homeland, the German abroad will become the best propagandist of Germany and fulfill his duty with success."

The article concludes that the propaganda campaign "will be necessary to win back lost or neglected sympathies. In this peaceful field campaign there is a great goal—Germany's freedom and world legality."

SAYS WOMAN FOUND DEAD
IN MONTE CARLO IS MOTHER

Youth Who Shared Hotel Room
With Her First Told Officials
She Was Sister.

The Associated Press.

MONTE CARLO, Dec. 6.—The body of a woman found dead in a hotel room here today was identified by the youth found with her as that of his mother, Mrs. Caroline Mary Elkington.

The young man, who said he was Frederick Charles Elkington, 17 years old, first told authorities that she was his sister and gave other names. Police began a search for their passports after the youth insisted that he and his mother were Americans and that their papers were in his pocket. He was held as a witness pending an autopsy and further investigation.

Hotel employees found the body of the woman in a bed in the room which they said was in great disorder. A physician said she had been dead 36 hours. There were no wounds. Police said the youth appeared dazed.

It gets such marvelous results because it's NOT just a salve, but a "counter-irritant"—quick and helpful in drawing out pain and infection.

Used by millions for 25 years. Recommended by many doctors and nurses. All druggists. In three strengths: Regular Strength, Children's (mild), and Extra Strong.

RELIEF SOUGHT FOR SIOUX

Report Says 283 Families of This Tribe Have No Food.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—A statement that Sioux Indians in the Dakotas and Nebraska "are facing starvation" this winter, and that direct relief alone would save them was made yesterday by Ralph H. Case, attorney for the Sioux tribe.

He made public a report he sent to Harry L. Hopkins, Federal Relief Administrator, and John Collier, Commissioner of Indian Affairs, which stated that a sum of about $136,000 should be made for use on the seven Sioux reservations. Case's report said 283 families were without food.

These were indicated that company officers might appeal to the State Officers at Washington. They characterized the decree as "confiscation of property."

The company wants to abandon its plants as a result of the decree, Dr. Antonio Gutierrez, Secretary of Interior, said. The Government stands ready to take them over.

After the conference, Gutierrez went to Camp Columbia, visited Col. Fulgencio Batista, chief of staff of the Cuban army, but remained at the palace long enough to tell reporters a law would become effective Friday which would make it compulsory that 50 per cent of the employees in all commerce and industry in Cuba be native Cubans.

Saying he expected some trouble in Havana when the law becomes effective, he added that it would provide that the proportion of Cubans be gradually increased to 80 per cent.

TO DECIDE IF EMPLOYED STUDENTS SHOULD HAVE CODE

Special Committee Named by NRA to Consider Wage and Hour Standards.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—The

NRA has appointed a special committee to recommend what should be done about application of code standards of wages and hours to students working their way through college and to handicapped workers.

Stanley P. Davies, director, Charitable Organization Society, New York City, was named chairman, with Oscar Sullivan, president, National Rehabilitation Association, St. Paul, and Prof. Frederick Woodward, University of Chicago, as members.

"The purpose of the report," Davies was informed by NRA, "is to seek assurance that we are doing justice both to the labor standards for regularly employed workers being built up in codes and equally to the handicapped and other special classes of workers."

North Dakota Official Goose Free.

BISMARCK, N. D., Dec. 6.—E. J. Heising, suspended manager of the State Hall Insurance Department, who signed a statement admitting forgery of two warrants totaling $1350, will not be prosecuted because the three-year limit for trying such an offense has expired, Attorney-General Sathre said last night.

Pine, an evergreen, get 2½ ounces of Pine. Pour this into a pint bottle and add granulated sugar syrup to fill up the pint. The syrup is easily made with two cups sugar and one cup water, dissolved in a few drops of lemon juice.

No cooking needed. It is no trouble at all, and makes the most effective remedy that money could buy. Keeps perfectly, and children love its taste.

For a cold, mix a quarter of a cup of the phlegm clearing the air passages, and soothing away the inflammation, has caused to be used in more homes than any other cough medicine.

Pine is a highly concentrated compound of Norway Pine, famous for its effect in relieving throat membranes. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

ICKES ATTACKS UTILITY LOBBY AT JEFFERSON CITY

Legislature Is Preventing Smaller Cities From Getting Grants for Municipal Plants, He Says.

Post-Dispatch Bureau, 201-205 Kellum Building. WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—Charging that the public utility lobby at Jefferson City has killed in committee proposed legislation to authorize municipalities of less than 75,000 population to issue revenue bonds for the construction of municipally owned public utilities, Public Works Administrator Ickes has instructed Col. Hugh Miller, Public Works engineer for Missouri, to carry the fight directly to the people.

In a blunt letter to Col. Miller, Ickes said that at present it is difficult, if not impossible, for the Federal Government to help the smaller municipalities to obtain their own public utilities. The letter, written Nov. 28, was as follows:

"My Dear Col. Miller:

"Referring to your letter of Nov. 20 regarding the pending Legislation in Missouri, I would like to advise you that the legislation falls into two categories. The first is confined to a proposal for a $15,000,000 bond issue for use primarily for construction of penal and eleemosynary institutions. This is entirely a question of local policy with which I feel the Public Works Administration should not concern itself.

"The second part of the legislative program embraces enabling legislation authorizing municipalities with populations of less than 75,000 to issue revenue bonds for the construction of municipally owned utilities. I understand that cities with a population in excess of 75,000 already possess such power.

"I am informed that several of the bills have been killed in committee within the last day or two and that the opposition to these bills has come from the utility lobby. While it is the policy of this administration not to interfere with local questions, I feel that the people of Missouri should be advised that the Public Works Administration is ready and willing to aid in financing the construction of municipally owned utilities which meet with its engineering, legal and financial requirements."

RIVER FRONT HIGHWAY PROPOSED BY MAYOR

He Is Having Survey Made, He Says, to See If Improvement Is Practical.

A survey of the river front is being made at Mayor Dickmann's direction to determine whether a "magnificent highway" can be built along the shore from a point near Riverview drive to Carondelet. This was announced by the Mayor in an address last night before the Northwest Improvement Association at a hall at Theobald and Newby streets. He continued:

"I have information which leads me to believe this is practical, but we have not investigated it thoroughly and are not now able to say definitely and finally if it can be accomplished. If it can be—then it is my present opinion it can—this improvement, with a thorough cleaning up of the river front, which would doubtless make numerous small playgrounds available, would be one of the finest improvements the city has ever made or can make. It would complete the low river front (to the Louisiana Purchase and the pioneers), would enable us to present our city to the country with immeasurable pride."

A strip of property of varying widths along the river, known officially as the Wharf, is owned by James Hackett, gambling czar of Blue Island, Ill., near Chicago. Jones' action was preliminary to turning state's evidence against Gale Swolley and Frank B. Souder, indicted as members of a midwestern gang of kidnapers. Total ransom exacted by the gang has been estimated by state authorities at more than $500,000. When the court asked Jones his occupation and what he had to say, this was his reply: "I'm in the liquor business, but it's lousy now."

ments. The existing status of the law in Missouri renders it difficult, if not impossible, to assist municipalities desiring to construct such facilities.

"Perhaps, the utility lobby is succeeding because the metropolitan press has not advised the electorate of the situation. I understand that there are liberal newspapers in your larger cities which are sympathetic with the municipalities in their opposition against the utility lobby. The trouble probably is that these newspapers are not carrying on an active campaign for the legislation because the larger municipalities already possess the power to issue revenue bonds.

"Perhaps, if the cause of the legislative impasse is brought to the attention of the electorate, the legislators will free themselves from the influence of the utility lobby."

"While it is not the function of the Public Works Administration or of the State Advisory Boards to force Federal funds upon unwilling borrowers, I feel that we owe a duty to the people to explain where the real responsibility rests and to advise them that the applications of municipalities desiring to construct utilities should receive every consideration from the Public Works Administration if their legislative representatives will enact the legislation necessary to enable such municipalities to issue revenue bonds."

"The Washington correspondents of the Missouri newspapers will be advised by me why under the existing state of law it is impossible to allocate any funds to the smaller Missouri municipalities for the construction of municipally owned utilities except where the municipality is in a position to issue general obligation bonds."

As is known, the Public Works Administration at Washington has taken the position that the injunction granted in the city of Salem case has set a precedent for other cities in Missouri desiring to construct their own public utilities.

The Missouri Supreme Court, according to PWA officials, ruled that a city or town exercises only those powers which are expressly granted. In the recent city of Salem case, the lower court enjoined the municipality from borrowing $40,000 from the Public Works Administration to finance the construction of improvements on its light plant and waterworks system, the loan to be secured solely by the pledge of earnings of the utilities as improved.

the city. The Mayor has said there was some question as to the title north of the Municipal Docks at North Market street. The Mayor removed his opposition to a large bond issue for Third street widening and river front development, and again outlined his proposal for resurfacing Broadway and substitution of busses for street cars there. The Mayor said an application will be filed by the city with the Federal Public Works Administration for a grant for equipment to generate electricity for downtown street lights and public buildings. The estimated total cost is $700,000 and the estimated annual saving, as against the present price of purchased current, $38,000. Dickmann said a bond issue might be necessary for the city's share of the cost, but that it was hoped to arrange for a Federal loan to be repaid from the savings.

The Mayor said an application will be filed by the city with the

RELIEF CAMP CARES FOR 31 TRANSIENTS

Men Get Clean Clothes, Three Meals a Day, and Work.

Thirty-one men who drifted into the city via box-cars and the open road during the last month or who have loafed in the city's "jungles," are now living in a transient camp in the county, where they have clean clothes, razors and toothbrushes, meals three times and six hours' work a day, and where they can come and go as they please.

When the camp, which has been established in the condemned building of a poultry farm, is finished, it will have room for 250 and can be expanded to hold 500. The camp, operated by the Citizens' Committee on Relief and Employment, is southwest of the intersection of Clayton and Kehrs Mill roads and adjoins a 70-acre farm run by the Bureau for Homeless Men.

Yesterday there were 11 newcomers, some of them just over the age limit of 45 years, who were changed into warm winter undershirts, flannel shirts and overalls just in time for dinner at 5 o'clock. Dinner was Government pork, sweet potatoes and corn bread and butter, bread pudding and coffee or milk.

Bridge, Poker, Solitaire

After dinner the new men played rummy, the older ones bridge and a three-handed solitaire game they invented themselves. Later there was poker, games.

"The reason I like it out here," burbled one of the men, "is that if the men ain't satisfied the road is open for them. They know how they came here and they know how they can go."

Almost all the men are vehement in expressing their liking for the place. There was "Heavy" Drain, who used to run a trucking business in San Francisco.

"This place is a Godsend," Heavy shouted. "We haven't quite settled down yet, we've been under a tension so long we don't know how to relax."

"We're just getting rid of all the bumps and knocks we've taken. This is charity, of course, and I've been fighting charity until now, but here we at least work for what we get. It was the only thing left. If you had few tricks saved up, somebody went South with them."

Long Argumentative Drunks

After Heavy's discourse, the session turned to more convivial topics. For every two devoted drinkers there were two who never drank at all. And that produced long arguments. But none seemed particularly excited that prohibition had been repealed.

The man in charge of S. A. Shapell, he said, "The men come here voluntarily. This is their home and they do the things to make it their home. They do all the work themselves. They work six hours a day, five days a week, but while we're getting the place in shape most of them have been working eight to 12 hours. The only restriction is that they must have at night."

The men here now have been forced onto the road. There are no professionals yet, but I expect them in the next bunch. They're entitled to our help as much as anybody."

The men get all new equipment, including towels, blankets, and sweaters, when they arrive at the camp. If they leave they must return only the surplus clothes they have. All had a physical examination before going out.

As soon as the camp is in full swing, Shapell will add classes in the trades, and in courses in history and literature. His aim is to make as many of the men as possible fit to return into normal life.

ED PAIR CONTRACT BRIDGE

Mrs. Humphrey Wagar; Atlanta, and Fred Levy, Birmingham, File Up 234.5 Points.

By the Associated Press
CINCINNATI, Dec. 6.—In the national tournament of the American Bridge League yesterday two comparative unknowns won the mixed pair contract trophy. SENATE RENEWS ATTACK ON PARK'S WORKS PROGRAM

With Utility Bills Killed, Opposition Is Now Aimed at Improvements for State Institutions.

MEASURE CALLED UP, LEFT TO FATE

Various Amendments Made in Effort to Throw Out
Governor's Proposal for $15,000,000 Bond Issue.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch

JEFFERSON CITY, Dec. 6.—The State Senate, whose Municipal Corporations Committee killed Gov. Park's bills to permit municipalities to enter municipal utility companies, has again voted to amend the issue of bonds to be paid from plant revenues, today continued in its design of defeating the Governor's whole public works program.

The Senate's opposition to the Governor now is being directed toward the proposal for the submission to the voters a $15,000,000 bond issue for the rehabilitation of the overcrowded and firetrap buildings at the elementary institutions.

In his call for the special session of the Legislature, the Governor, on the basis of providing unemployment relief through the co-operation of the Federal Government, made two specific recommendations.

The Governor's Recommendations. One, to be carried out with four bills, proposed the enactment of legislation to enable cities of less than 75,000 population to have the privilege, held by larger cities, of raising revenue bonds for the erection of light and power generating and sewer plants. He said that although privately-owned utilities could obtain franchises on a majority vote, a two-thirds vote was required to enable a municipality to build its own plants. He asked that only a majority vote be required to give this authorization.

Public utility lobbyists flocked to Jefferson City, waged a vigorous fight against the measures, and the Senate's Municipal Corporations Committee voted to report the bills unfavorably with the exception of the sewer bill, and on that it recommended an amendment to require a two-thirds vote.

The Governor's second public works recommendation was for the submission of a $15,000,000 bond issue for elementary and penal institutions. He said that $20,000 was needed and that the additional $5,000,000 would be an outright grant from the Federal Government.

He told of the several thousand inmates patients housed in antiquated buildings which were not fireproof.

No Committee Report Yet. Although the Senate committee had nearly two weeks ago to kill utility bills, the committee's report never has been made to the Senate. Chairman Briggs said the delay was due to a desire to permit nothing of a controversial character to come up to interfere with the consideration of the liquor control bill.

The report of the committee would open the way for a motion to override the committee and place the bills on the calendar notwithstanding the adverse report. Such motion would force Senators to vote in the open, whereas in the committee the votes were secret. Consideration of the liquor bill or perfection was finished in the Senate at 1:30 o'clock yesterday morning, but when the Senate returned yesterday afternoon the vote was not made. Instead the majority on the other public works recommendation was begun.

Senator Donnelly, who had introduced the resolution, called it a "good bill" and then left it to its fate, making no defense of it, but not participating in the opposition to it.

Death by Amendments. The plan was to kill the resolution by amendments. The first, offered by Senator Crouse, struck from the resolution a provision for writing into the Constitution a commission to supervise the creation of a State planning commission to supervise the expenditure of the money. This amendment met favor from both opponents and friends.

The Governor, the object being that it was a mistake to make the commission a constitutional office which the Legislature would have no control over.

Senator Crouse, admitting that he had no information as to the amount of money required for rebuilding, obtained adoption of an amendment reducing the amount from $15,000,000 to $10,000,000.

Senator Bales followed with another amendment striking out a statutory provision of bond issue resolutions under which the expenses of marketing the bonds could be paid from their proceeds.

Senator Casey joined in the opposition, with a long speech in which he criticized the creation of any state commissions, attacked Benjamin H. Charles, St. Louis

Various Amendments Made

Governor's Proposal for $15,000,000 Bond Issue.

By a Staff Correspondent of the

JEFFERSON CITY, Dec. 6.—The State Senate, whose Municipal Corporations Committee killed Gov. Park's bills to permit municipalities to erect municipal utility plants through the issuance of bonds to be paid from plant revenues, today continued in its design of defeating the Governor's whole public works program.

The Senate's opposition to the Governor now is being directed toward the proposal for the submission to the voters of a $15,000,000 bond issue for the rehabilitation of the overcrowded and firetrap buildings at the eleemosynary institutions.

In his call for the special session of the Legislature, the Governor, on the basis of providing unemployment relief through the co-operation of the Federal Government, made two specific recommendations.

The Governor's Recommendations.

One, to be carried out with four additional amendments, was a bill to enable cities of less than 50,000 population to have the privilege, held by larger cities, of issuing revenue bonds for the erection of light and power, gas, water and sewer plants.

He said that, although privately-owned utilities could obtain franchises on a majority vote, a two-thirds vote was required to enable a municipality to build its own plants. He asked that only a majority vote be required to give the authorization.

Public utility lobbyists flocked to Jefferson City, waged a vigorous fight against the measures, and the Senate Municipal Corporations Committee voted to report the bills unfavorably with the exception of the sewer bill, and on that it recommended an amendment to reduce the two-thirds vote.

The Governor's second public works recommendation was for the submission of a $15,000,000 bond issue for eleemosynary and penal institutions. He said that $20,000 was needed and that an additional $5,000,000 would be an outright grant from the Federal Government.

He told of the several thousand insane patients housed in antiquated buildings which were fireproof.

No Committee Report Yet.

Although the Senate committee had nearly two weeks ago to kill utility bills, the committee's report never has been made to the Senate. Chairman Briggs said the delay was due to a desire to learn nothing of a controversial character to come up to interfere with the consideration of the liquor bill.

The report of the committee would open the way for a motion to override the committee's and place the bills on the calendar notwithstanding the adverse report.

Consideration of the liquor bill in perfection was finished in the Senate yesterday afternoon, but when the Senate convened yesterday afternoon the report was not made. Instead the fight on the other public works recommendation was begun.

Senator Donnelly, who had introduced the resolution at the request of the Governor, called it off and then left it to its fate, making no defense of it, but not participating in the opposition to it.

Death by Amendments.

The first was to kill the resolution by amendments.

The first, offered by Senator Clegg, struck from the resolution revision for writing into the Constitution the creation of a State Building commission to supervise the expenditure of the money. This amendment met favor from both opponents and the friends of the Governor, the objection being that it was a mistake to make the commission a constitutional office over which the Legislature would have no control.

Senator Clegg, admitting that he had no information as to the amount of money required for an amendment, obtained adoption of an amendment reducing the amount from $15,000,000 to $10,000,000.

Senator Bales followed with an amendment striking out a summary provision of bond issue resolutions under which the expense of marketing the bonds would be paid from their proceeds.

Senator Casey joined in the opposition with a long speech in which he criticized the creation of any state or commissions, attacked Benjamin H. Charles, St. Louis

REFORM OF LEAGUE SOUGHT IN EUROPEAN DISCUSSIONS

Divorce From Treaty of Versailles Considered—This Might Open Way for Entry of U. S.

By the Associated Press.
ROME, Dec. 6.—The Associated Press learned in highest quarters today that diplomatic conversations have begun in the various capitals of Europe seeking reform of the League of Nations.

The discussions began several days before the Fascist grand council declared Italian membership in the League depended on the new principle of that institution.

Absolute adherence of the League from the principles of the treaty of Versailles, which would eliminate from the League covenant articles which guarantee preservation of boundaries created by that treaty is under discussion, it was learned. The articles provide for use of military and economic forces to stop aggression.

If these articles are eliminated it is believed the United States could be invited to join the League. It was to these that American delegations objected, since it did not wish to be embroiled in European affairs.

Russia, Germany and Japan could also be invited to join, it was understood. They would form a league within the League itself possibly with one or more of the reasonably large nations such as Poland and Spain, which also might be included in this inner circle.

Three Sections of Influence.

Under the proposed reorganization, it was learned, the world would be divided into three sections of influence to be dominated by the large nations:

(a) Europe, to be influenced by Germany, France, England and Italy.

(b) The Asiatic, to be dominated by Russia and Japan.

(c) The Americas, to be dominated by the United States.

The above changes would deprive the League of its present power in a military sense and would inevitably weaken the institution, observers said, but it was thought the new principle would make the League more powerful than ever by bringing in the four large nations now outside.

Supporters of the program emphasize that any invitation to the United States would come from no one nation or individual, but from Geneva itself.

Action of Fascist Council.

The Grand Council of the Fascist party in a secret midnight meeting decided that Italy would remain in the League of Nations only if it is "radically reformed in the shortest time."

The meeting was presided over by Premier Mussolini.

Reference must be applied to the League's "Constitutional principles of system and objectives" said a resolution voted by the council and communicated officially to the press.

The council decided to pay $1,000,000 to the United States on an installment of $2,500,000 due Dec. 15. The council decided to pay $1,000,000 as renewed proof of Italy's good faith.

The communists said: "This is done while awaiting definite systematization to close this debt and credit account resulting from the World War."

GREECE TO ASK INSULL TO LEAVE COUNTRY DEC. 31

Police Permit Expires Then,
He Will Receive "Free Pass" Allowing Entry to Other Lands.

ATHENS, Dec. 6.—Greece, which has been given no refuge from extradition, will ask Samuel Insull to leave the country when his automobile was stopped by a police officer yesterday.

But this, it was indicated, should not be taken to mean necessarily that Insull can be returned immediately to Chicago to face charges growing out of the collapse of his insurance companies.

For, it was said, the Greek Government is prepared to equine him with a "laisssez passer" (free pass) which will give him entry to other countries.

The Greek pass, however, would not protect him against a United States extradition demand made on whatever other country he may enter.

The first chapter in the United States Government's attempt to return Insull was written shortly after a Cook County grand jury indicted him at Chicago. In Paris at the time, he fled to Italy and later to Greece. There court decisions have blocked all extradition moves.

A member of the Greek Government is prepared to equine him with a "laisssez passer" (free pass) which will give him entry to other countries.

The Greek pass, however, would not protect him against a United States extradition demand made on whatever other country he may enter.

The report of the committee would open the way for a motion to override the committee's and place the bills on the calendar notwithstanding the adverse report.

Senator Casey joined in the opposition with a long speech in which he criticized the creation of any state or commissions, attacked Benjamin H. Charles, St. Louis lawyer and recognized authority on bond issues, who drew the bill, and finally launched into a long discussion of the Capitol Decoration Commission, which 10 or 15 years ago, serving without compensation, supervised the decoration of the State Capitol.

Senator Gunn of Cooper County defended the resolution vigorously as did Senator Joffe of Kansas City, but the wreckers were in full control.

After the resolution had been amended to make it insufficient to meet the requirements, it was perfected by the Senate today.

DEMAND FOR OPEN VOTE IN SENATE ON UTILITY BILLS

Representatives of Municipalities Ask That Public Works Measures Be Sent to Floor for Action.

By BOYD F. CARROLL,
Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Dec. 6.—Ouster of the public utility lobby from the State Capitol, and submission of Gov. Park's public works bills, which were killed in the secrecy of a Senate committee executive meeting, to a record vote on the floor of the Senate, was urged in resolutions adopted in a meeting here last night of representatives of municipalities supporting the bills.

Nearly 100 representatives of about 20 municipalities unanimously joined in the demand that the Senate recognize the principle of utility bills to be brought to the open Senate for a record vote, instead of smothering the measure by the usual closed vote of a majority of the members of the Senate Municipal Corporation Committee.

The protest meeting was held in the hall of the House of Representatives by the recently organized Missouri Association Supporting Senate Bills Numbers 7, 8, 9 and 10. These bills, successfully opposed so far by the utility lobby, would make it easier for municipalities of less than 75,000 population to establish municipally-owned electric, gas and water utility plants and to build sewer systems.

Information Bureau Proposed.

Immediate action to submit the measures to voters of the State through the initiative, if the Senate refuses to bring the bills out in the open for a record vote, was urged by Mayor E. A. Shannon of Mexico.

Montevideo, Uruguay, Dec. 6.—Two hundred statesmen waited an hour and a half for a state banquet last night while Communists held the Uruguayan Chief of Protocol captive, apparently as a practical joke.

The dinner was tendered to Secretary of State Hull, the nine other foreign Ministers present, and all the other representatives of the Americas.

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay, Dec. 6.—Two hundred statesmen waited an hour and a half for a state banquet last night while Communists held the Uruguayan Chief of Protocol captive, apparently as a practical joke.

They Seize Uruguayan Official With Place Cards, Hold Him
While Diplomats Wait.

By the Associated Press.

CARLOS YEREGUAY, Uruguayan Chief of Protocol, prepared the seating arrangements and started for the banquet hall with the place cards in his pocket. On the way, his automobile was stopped by a police officer who described as Communists and who held him prisoner in his own car.

Meanwhile the diplomats stood about in the large marble corridor of the legislative palace while their dinner cooled. No one but the Chief of Protocol dared take the responsibility of seating the guests, according to their proper precedence. Finally Yereguay was released and reached the waiting guests.

The resolution calling for a vote on the bills by the full membership of the Senate urged "these bills be brought to the floor of the Senate for a roll call, to indicate to the people of Missouri that not the principle of majority rule for Missouri cities shall be upheld by members of the Senate, or trampled under foot to satisfy the ever-present utility lobby that has disgraced the Missouri Senate during two sessions."

Another resolution called for a "thorough investigation of the utility lobby which for two sessions has so arrogantly and boldly endeavored to exercise undue influence over the Legislature and to intimidate the Governor, to the end that this utility lobby may be permanently ousted from the Capital."

Lobby Inquiry Called.

A lobby investigation in the House was blocked yesterday when the House voted, 65 to 60, to deny funds and facilities to an investigating committee created at the request of the Governor, and then adopted a motion, without a record vote, to dissolve the committee.

The municipal representatives voted that President Roosevelt be informed of alleged "false propaganda" which the resolution charged the American Electric Light Company and other privately-owned utility companies in Missouri are spreading in the Legislature and throughout the State, concerning the President's position on municipal ownership.

The State Board of Equalization was requested to take notice that the assessed valuation of some of the utilities, for taxation, were "far less than one-half" of the valuations claimed by these utilities for rate-making purposes.

The municipal representatives of the Legislature, and that failure of the Senate to pass the public works bills would be disastrous to the program in the State.

Read Letter From Ickes.

Miller said 41 utility projects, estimated to cost $6,000,000, had been submitted on passage of the bills, and that many others, for which applications for Federal loans and grants had not been formally filed, would be affected. "I believe the people have a right to have these bills passed," he said.

Francis C. Becker, St. Charles, was applauded when he recalled that

The DAILY WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6. FOR weeks chief criticism against the NRA has been the fact that certain business factions were allowed to write their own terms into their codes. These terms frequently meant suicide for weaker factions in the same industry. They also mean unfair conditions for labor.

But despite glaring inequalities, many such codes were shoved through.

Only recently has the secret of the power back of this drive come to light. The power is known as MAPI, or the Machinery and Allied Products Institute. It was organized very quietly last summer to fight the NRA. Its membership includes the most important manufacturers in the capital goods industry. Its chief program is a unit front "of hours of labor, rates of pay, conditions of employment"; also that two-thirds of the employers may at any time discard any code. Since a code, once approved by the President, has the status of law, the latter aim would give employers the same authority as the President.

Since MAPI has been forced into the open, there have been startling revelations. Here are some of them:

1. That MAPI was the author of 40 pending capital goods industries codes.

2. That the scale of wages in these codes is generally lower than in other codes.

3. That all the codes have the two-thirds recinding clause.

4. That Deputy Administrator Leonard S. Horner, an "open shop" Connecticut manufacturer, selected charge of these codes. He knows all about MAPI, heartily approves of it, has exerted every effort to jam through its "uniform" codes.

"Yes," he declared, when asked if he was reported correctly on this point, "I think it is a fine institution, and doing excellent work."

SAILING from San Francisco for Manila, Dr. Hayden has been appointed vice governor of the Philippines. Until his appointment he was professor of political science at the University of Michigan. He is a friend and fellow townsmen of Governor-General Frank Murphy, former Mayor of Detroit.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

A attractive luncheon was given today at the Bellerive Country Club to introduce to society Miss Margaret Neff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Joseph Neff, 7625 Wydown boulevard. Mrs. Neff was assisted in receiving her guests by another daughter, Mrs. Robert Winkelman, of Kansas City, formerly Miss Elizabeth Neff, who arrived yesterday afternoon to visit her parents.

The hostess and her daughters stood in the lounge of the club before the mantel which was arranged with palms and ferns and gift flowers. Miss Neff was gowned in gold colored crepe trimmed with open work inserts of the material corded into a design. A band of the trimming extended from the wrist of one long sleeve, across the shoulder, and to the wrist of the other sleeve. The belt was similar.

Miss Neff and her family formerly lived in Houston, Tex. She is a graduate of the University of Missouri School of Journalism and a member of Kappa Alpha Theta.

Invitations have been received for a red and white dinner dance to be given Friday night, Dec. 23, at the Louis County Club by Mr. and Mrs. Carl H. Langenberg of the Country Club grounds to formally introduce to society their daughter, Miss Bonnie Langenberg. The invitations were engraved on white cards edged with red.

CUP TEAM THREE FOOTBALL GROUPS SET NEW ATTENDANCE RECORDS

RAX'S COLUMN

What! More Laurels?

NOTHER bouquet has been handed to Mr. Little, "L'Eco," a Rhode Island Italian-American publication, in naming an all-Italian, all-star team for the year, picked Lou Little as coach.

Mr. Little, who presumably is of Italian origin, can feel honored by the selection. In fact, Lou would be still more honored if he could take the all-Italian team West, instead of his own.

The first all-Italian lineup might put up a good front against the All-Americans picks so far sent out. Here is Italian team No. 1:

Many Italian Stars.

TWO of Little's own Italian players, Ferrara and Migliori, were not good enough to make the All-Italian stars first team, but were placed in the second lineup and the honorable mention squad, respectively.

Such sterling Italians as Nicolini of St. Mary's, Pozzo of Oregon, Burzio of Carnegie Tech, Ferraro of Cornell, Mazzotti of Notre Dame, Pasquale of Colgate, Soprano of Santa Clara and at least 10 others of first string power were also named on the secondary Italian eleven.

In fact, the names of really good players surprises the reader into the belief that the Italian-American material is peculiarly adapted to our American game of football.

But why pick on football? The world's champion fighter is an Italian. Italian names without number have appeared among the front ranks of fighters in various classes.

Football has drawn on Italian-American material considerably. Billiards gave us Maggiori and others in bowling our first nationally champion was an Italian known as Jim Smith.

In short, the Italian temperament seems to be admirably suited to sport competition of all sorts.

Too Bad About Nebraska.

MIDDLE-WEST will feel that Nebraska has been sidestepped by the Rose Bowl selection of Columbia. The Cornhusker team, with its ten seniors, was a formidable machine this year, although beaten by Pittsburg.

It isn't often that a football outfit graduates ten regular players in one season—but that will be Nebraska's luck.

Whether the luck will turn out to be good or bad remains to be seen. The Cornhuskers are seldom without capable talent. In fact, it has been years since Nebraska has been without a first rank eleven.

The remarkable part of Nebraska teams is that almost always the players are native Nebraskans, brought up in Nebraska high schools. They grow 'em big and good, out there.

Of all the state universities of the country, Nebraska's teams are probably more nearly 100 per cent representative of the state than any other.

OVERALL AND MORTON RECEIVE LETTERS FOR FOOTBALL AT YALE

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Dec. 6.—John H. Overall Jr., of Kent road, Clayton, and Stratford L. Morton Jr., of 107 Joy avenue, Webster Groves, were among the 26 members of the Yale football team to receive a major "I" for work on the Yale eleven this season, according to an announcement today by the University Athletic Association. Overall attended St. Paul's, while Morton prepared at the County Day School. Morton is also on the Yale track team.

Francis Clark, Curtains of North Attleboro, Mass., right tackle on this year's team, was elected captain for 1934 by a unanimous vote at the annual meeting of the letter men.

Curtain, who is a junior, also played right tackle on last year's Yale team.

WILLARD CONVICTED ON BATTERY CHARGE

By the Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 6.—Convicted on a charge of battery, Jess Willard, former world's heavyweight boxing champion, will be sentenced Saturday in Municipal Court.

The charge grew out of a fight Willard is alleged to have had with Henry Legreco, truck driver, and his father, Henry Legreco, after a collision of their cars with Willard's automobile and a truck driven by the son.

Witnesses for the prosecution testified Willard was under the influence of liquor at the time of the accident. Willard denied the charge.

"One fellow ran up behind me and grabbed my legs and the other kicked me in the face," Willard testified. "I wanted to get into position to knock them over, but I couldn't. I never saw anything like it in all my years in the ring."

40 OF 53 SCHOOLS SHOW INCREASE; FORDHAM RAMS' CROWDS DOUBLE

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—College football finally has turned the corner in a big way, on the basis of attendance figures compiled today by the Associated Press, and regained much of the popularity as well as financial ground lost during the past three years.

The tabulation for 1933, covering all sections of the country, discloses a rising tide of turnout activity exceeding the most optimistic expectations. It shows that 40 of 53 colleges and universities registered substantial gains over 1932, ranging in a few instances as high as 100 per cent. Records for attendance were broken in the Big Ten, the Big Six and Rocky Mountain conferences. Last year there was a general decline of 15 per cent.

Fordham Attendance Doubled. Fordham's first session under Jim Crowley was marked by more than doubled attendance. St. Mary's, which beat Fordham before a capacity crowd in New York, showed the next best record by jumping its attendance from 194,000 for eight games last year to 379,000 for nine games this season. Iowa more than doubled its bad attendance.

But why pick on football? The world's champion fighter is an Italian. Italian names without number have appeared among the front ranks of fighters in various classes.

Baseball has drawn on Italian-American material considerably. Billiards gave us Maggiori and others in bowling our first nationally champion was an Italian known as Jim Smith.

ST. LOUIS U. NOT ON NEXT YEAR'S TIGER SCHEDULE

By the Associated Press.

COLUMBIA, Mo., Dec. 6.—Scheduling of an intercollegiate football game between the University of Colorado and the University of Missouri to be played at Boulder Oct. 6, 1934, was announced by C. L. Brewer, athletic director, here today.

The Rocky Mountain Conference team has been the victor in two previous contests between the two schools, winning 9 to 7 at Boulder in 1930 and 9 to 0 at Columbia in 1931.

Later in the season, the Tigers will take on their second intercollegiate opponent, meeting the University of Chicago Oct. 27, at Chicago. Games with Nebraska at Lincoln, Oct. 13; Iowa State at Norman, Nov. 3; Kansas State at Manhattan, Nov. 10; Washington at Columbia, Nov. 17, and Kansas at Columbia, Nov. 29, will complete the eight-game schedule now arranged.

If Big Six Conference officials approve a nine-game schedule, this meeting in October Springs Friday and Saturday, a home game will be added to be played here Sept. 29. Kirkville Teachers' College, by virtue of its 26-to-6 victory over the Tigers here this season, has been most prominently mentioned for the extra game, but other opponents are being considered.

St. Louis University, it is noted, is not listed as having a game next year with Missouri U. The teams have been meeting annually for several years. Chile Walsh, director of athletics at St. Louis U., could not be reached for a statement.

Hans Mueller Loses.

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—Roy Frisco (158) of New York outpointed Hans Mueller (171), Germany, in a six-round bout at the Ridgewood Grove Arena last night.

WHEAT CLOSES UNCHANGED TO FRACTIONALLY HIGHER

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Dec. 6.—Reactions from advances formed the rule in grain values today toward the end of trading, but the market was little changed.

Lack of enthusiasm and supplies point to likelihood of further moisture relief for domestic wheat territory.

Wheat was unchanged at the same as yesterday's final in 5¢ higher corn 4¢ to off to 4¢ net lower. Wheat advanced in prices, varying from 1¢ to decline to a rise of 1¢.

The upward trend of grain prices developed early today.

The cereals appeared to take their cue from the market, but advances of securities to new highs for the year. Opening 1¢ to 2¢ up, wheat was added to about 1¢ and somewhat rose all around.

More than a cent gain, a little more than half a cent, was the result. During much of the time there was selling pressure of consequence, but the market was the market of commission houses took the market readily upward, with some gains given to wheat, export trade had decided to suspend wheat exports.

Wheat reported a scarcity of export offers despite a steady rise.

Helping to give an under tone of strength to the market, however, was the advance of cereals. Despite delivery appeared difficult to buy. The price difference between Dec. 1 and Dec. 2 was 1 cent.

More than a cent, a small amount, was more interest being taken in corn, which was 1¢ to 2¢ up, and in grain offerings.

Despite yesterday's 3-cent advance in corn prices only 100 bushels were booked overnight to arrive in Chicago from the country.

Prohibition Is Dead.
Bootleg Crime, Much Alive.
A Ride in California.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE.
(Copyright, 1933.)
SAN SIMEON, Cal., Dec. 6.

PROHIBITION, mother of bootlegging and the world's highest crime wave, died, officially, yesterday.

Bootlegging and crime, unfortunately, are not dead, and there is no certainty that crime's annual cost to this country of $13,000,000 will not go on.

"It depends on good judgment in liquor taxation, and on police, judicial and general official integrity and energy."

If liquors are taxed too highly, Europe and Canada, sending in whisky, almost free of home taxation, will offer to crime all the bootleg profit it needs.

And if distribution is hampered, in the prohibition spirit, speak-easies will continue to flourish. It has been wisely said that if you hamper decent drinking in decent places, there will be indecent drinking in indecent places.

Changing to a more pleasant subject, read some details of one ride, over a few miles of rolling hills and cattle trails, along the edge of the Pacific Ocean.

Charlie Eblen, who looks after the horses and knows how to do it, has two "pintos," spotted black and white horses saddled early. Cowboy saddles and bridles, and those that call for experience and strength.

Passing the menagerie with its cages of wild animals, the horses snort, shy and cavor, as they smell the lions and other wild creatures. They same, passing the grizzly bear pits, in another direction. "Querer," says Eblen, "that a person have seen a lion or a bear and not been afraid of it."

STAMP NEWS

A NEW DEAL for WOMEN of CHINA

How Christianity Is Changing Ancient Customs

A LITTLE woman is Dr. Yifang Wu, as is the nature of many of the Chinese race, but she impresses you as a big woman. That is when she is addressing an audience of the new women of China, or on the logic of Chinese people adopting Christianity until she stands next to one, and one realizes she is only shoulder high to an average person; then despite her round fullness of face her features are small and her build rather delicate. It is her energy, her fullness of character, that make her seem large at first, because her personality dominates her environment.

It is believed that Russia will issue a set of stamps commemorating the end of the 16-year effort to be recognized by the United States. The set is expected to be called the Lelitnov, and much speculation is going on as to whether it will portray our own chief executive.

The Dutch explorer and statesmen who will be pictured on the Tercentenary set of Colonia, Dr. William Utrecht, Frederick Hendrik Jacob Binken, Cornelius Everardus Jongestal and Louis Brion. These portraits will be on the values from 1½c to 150c with the exception of the 2c, which will picture the Ship of Johannes Van Walbeek.

The Austrian artist, Ludwig Hirschhaler, is preparing in Vienna a new airport series for Liechtenstein.

The International Festival of Music which will be held at Prague, Czechoslovakia, next year, will be commemorated by a series of stamps portraying the great composers, Dvorak and Smetana.

The exhausted stock of postage and airmail stamps of Haiti will be replaced with a new series, 3c, 5c, 10c, 75c, 1g, 2g, 2½g for ordinary mail; the airmail series will consist of 50c and 1g.

Since the Century of Progress at Chicago will be revived next year, the Postoffice Department is considering another series of special stamps.

Over 75 per cent of the lots sold at the Hind public sales went to floor bidders, which is something very unusual for stamp auctions.

In France recently an unknown American stamp collector bought 10,000 copies of the 3c 1869 stamp. It is understood he will check the stamps for varieties and cancellations.

New Issues.

CANAL ZONE—The 3s. violet NRA stamp has been overprinted "Canal Zone" for use here.

GREECE—In addition to the set recently put out for the Italian Aero-expreso Company, the Greek government has issued a set of airmail stamps which can be used on all lines not controlled by its national corporation. This series will consist of seven values in three designs as follows: 50L green; 1dr pale maroon, and 25dr light blue, showing a monoplane in flight over the map of Greece. The 5dr blue and 50dr brown show a plane over the Acropolis and the 2dr mauve and 10dr red picture a plane over the Icarian Islands. The Greek flag is also shown on the last two values.

HUNGARY—Scots No. 1286, 50f. rose red has been surcharged with a new figure of value 12c and bars. This surcharge is similar to Scotts No. 1304-1308 and are on a postage due stamp.

INDY COAST—The Haute-Volane, which were overprinted for use here, are provisionals and will shortly be replaced by new designs. Of the overprints the 5s. and 15s. stocks are exhausted. There are only 75,000 sets overprinted.

JUGOSLAVIA—The 50c blue and carmine of the current set has been overprinted with a Red Cross and a portion of the face value will go to the aid of this organization.

NEW ZEALAND—Early next year a new postal series consisting of 14 values from the ½d to the 2s. will be issued. The stamps will portray the native races, fauna and flora. The designs have been seen in England and have been very severely criticized.

NICARAGUA—Four surcharges have just been released here. They are all airmail stamps. The designs are of Mount Momotombo printed in new colors and surcharged with new values as follows: 30c on 50c red orange, 35c on 50c bright blue, 40c and 10c yellow, 50c on 10c dark green.

PHILIPPINES—More information has been released concerning the series of 14 postage stamps which are to be issued next year by the Islands. The stamps will be in three sizes, the first a little larger than our regular United States stamps. The values for this size will be 2c, black, 6c, violet and 16c, blue. The second size will be large horizontal oblongs very similar in size to the George Rogers Clark stamp. The values will be 4c, green, 8c, brown, 10c, red, 12c, red orange, 20c, yellow, 25c, pale blue and 30c, grey. The third size will be almost square stamp larger than the second one. The values will be 1P, 1½P, 2P, brown, 4P dark blue and 5P green, bluetone.

Due to the longer time required for engraving the lower values 2c, 4c, 6c, 16c and 20c stamps will be issued in advance of the higher values.

POLAND—A new value has been added to the postal service. It is 15c red, Scotts Type A58.

URUGUAY—A new series of regular postage and airmail stamps will be released by this country leaders of modernization tried to strengthen the people along the lines of the Western culture, to emphasize the things immediately important, such as industries, the manufacturing of goods. The contact with the Western world brought a strong reaction against the old order, in favor of the new.

Dr. Wu, having dedicated her life to the introduction of Christianity into China, evidenced most interest in this subject, but she also became enthusiastic member of the improved condition of China under the new order.

In the management of the college which she heads Dr. Wu tries to educate the girls toward a broader place in the national life of the country. She is interested in the expansion of feminine activity away from the mere idea of individual development into an interest in general welfare. One of the outstanding methods whereby she encourages the girl students, who number somewhere in excess of 1,000, on their advantages, is in teaching.

The schools established in China, she says, are not yet adequate to care for all the population which would like to attend, and also the extreme poverty of so many of the people prevents the children from attending because of lack even of the small amount necessary for books. So the students have established a free day school, where anyone from the surrounding district can obtain elementary education. Also a number of the girls have volunteered as tutors, so that most of the servants at the college, formerly illiterate, have learned to read and write. In addition a part of the routine of the girls is to visit homes around Nanking and try to pass on to the people the knowledge they have gained, as well as to give medical and other assistance.

Dr. Wu has been in America for several months during the present visit. She came to the United States as one of the guest speakers at the International Congress of Women, held in Chicago. In August, she was a delegate to the Institute of Pacific Relations at Banff, Canada. Her active interest in the expansion of the Chinese character has made her one of the leading feminine leaders of her country, and internationally known. Her viewpoint is largely international, embracing mankind as a whole, rather than national.

"There has been, I believe, too much talk of the need for the fully expanded individual. The individual who builds up his own self-expression and self-development is not contributing his best to the world.

It is not enough to advance his own interests. He must work for the good of all people."

However, despite her general acceptance of Western ideas, Dr. Wu retains much of the spirit of China. Her dress is Chinese in character. When interviewed she wore a gray costume with high "choker" collar, long sleeves, and rather a straight silhouette, with the skirt a silt effect along the lower sides, reaching nearly to the ankles. Her training, of course, was Chinese. It was not until she attended Gining College in her adolescence that she came into close contact with Western ideas and finance. It was at the college that she became a convert to Christianity.

Had North Merely Overacted?

Had North bid a spade instead of down? West had a club, and South would have a hard decision whether to bid a no trump or two hearts.

Being vulnerable, it seems certain that the two hands may still be a misfit. Two no trumps by North, still proceeding cautiously since the two hands may still be a misfit. Two no trumps by South, the perfect bid. It shows willingness to play at three spades, unwillingness to rebid hearts, and some outside high cards which are likely to eliminate some losers from North's hand. West passed, having an aggressive aspect. Two spades, by North, still proceeding cautiously since the two hands may still be a misfit. Two no trumps by South, the perfect bid. Willy Nilly Pleads

"I WASN'T very nice to the Bears," said Willy Nilly. "The last thing I did was to punish them. After all, even if they eat more than their share, they're so jolly and so friendly and such fun that I hate to think that scolded them just before they went to sleep for the whole winter. Jelly Bear saved my life last year, too. I wasn't kind either," said Willy.

"Nor was I," caved Christopher. "They did deserve that punishment, but I was going to make it up to them at breakfast," sighed Willy Nilly. "Let's go in the garden, and see if we can't wake them up just enough so that they know how much we care for them. They all crawled into the cave once more.

"Jelly Bear," said Willy Nilly, "please wake up for a moment. Wish you a good winter's sleep and tell you how much we care about you."

"Honey Bear, we care for you so much, too, and were so happy when Jelly Bear brought you to Puddin' Muddle as his bride."

"Bark, bark," said Rip, "we think the world and all of you, Bears."

"Caw, caw, I crowingly agreed," said Christopher Columbus Crow.

All of a sudden Jelly Bear moved a little in his sleep. Honey Bee did, too.

"Wake up, wake up for a second," begged Willy Nilly.

"I can't stand it to think that the last thing I did was to punish you. Won't you awaken enough to hear me say so?" Oh, please!"

Cutting Out Cookies

If cookies are to be cut out the dough can be handled more easily if it is chilled several hours before it is rolled out. As little flour as possible should be placed on the board, since extra flour and much handling produce tough cookies. Roll out and cut a few cookies at time.

Maintaining the Home
Advice From Martha Carr

IF YOU ASK MY OPINION
by MARTHA CARR

Dear Mrs. Carr:

FTER reading "Jim's" complaint and the comments it aroused I couldn't resist a comment on both sides of the question. "Chivalry Is Dead," said "Five Girls." If it is, it is the girl's own fault. I was one of those notorious nice girls—the kind the College Boy went out with once and then dropped like a hot potato because she didn't want to even allow an escort to kiss her.

When I was 16 I met a boy who was typical of this speed-mad younger generation." Although of good family he was a "red hot Sheik." I fell very much in love with him, and when poor, slow Me finally managed to get a date with him I found that he was even faster than I'd thought him? I did not. I didn't even let him kiss me good-night, and what do you think happened? The Sheik did a Gallop!

I will leave my address with you, in case it is asked for.

Dear Mrs. Carr:

AM going to entertain my daughter during the holidays and while I have some plans, we would be glad to have you help us with some suggestions for the party.

MOTHER A.

I have a very good Christmas party, with suggestions for decorations, games and refreshments, which I will mail to you if you will send self-addressed, stamped envelope.

* * * * *

My Dear Mrs. Carr:

THIS year I am viewing Christmas with alarm. It has never been so unlike us before, but last we are feeling the real pinch—though we have never been really rich. If you will be so kind could you suggest something simple and personal I might make or do for my friends—the few I exchange gifts with—that might come within the means of average means?

GRAVE V.

To strike the happy mean, between foolish doodads and the too-silly practicalities at Christmas is no mean task. We look with puzzled eye at the opened boxes of gifts, far often disappointed. People have, through experience, learned not to present things which must be merely boxed and sent to "next neighbor," another Christmas.

But it does seem terrible to bring Christmas down to the dull, practical. Mother may need a floor mop or a vacuum cleaner worse than anything else. But watch mother's expression if you give her those and nothing more! Something a little positive, a little extravagant, a little dash—is what she craves, and this is what she should have; something that will stir the sentimentality, the grace, the atmosphere of the right kind of home. There is one compromise—Christmas goodies and cookies. These are not inexpensive, yet the outlay is less than for many things. They can be made so attractive and so good that they are a rare treat.

If you care to make them, and this happens to be your forte, I shall be glad to send you recipes for German Christmas cakes. You could make them now and set them away in the to soften. Send a self-addressed stamped envelope.

Dear Mrs. Carr:

WHEN I get a paper, usually borrowed one, I read and enjoy your column. My little girl wants a bicycle. Of course, her daddy gets just about enough work to keep the big bad wolf away, and the wolf is a good one. We live down here at the barracks and a friend would call for these things. Then we could repair them ourselves. Clothing or shoes or bedding would be acceptable, too. Hoping someone will kindly help make my children happy. T. L.

Dear Mrs. Carr:

I AM not asking for gifts for Christmas. I have always, before this year, been able to give them myself. But we are now at middle age, and he has had so little work, now out of work, that I can think of Christmas giving. What I would like to have is a radio, and a kind of old time mother, who enjoys so much. If anyone has a small one they could spare, I should be most grateful for it.

MRS. A. G.

Dear Mrs. Carr:

FOR your correspondent, who would like to put on weight, will follow my plan. I feel sure she will gain as much as she wishes.

At 10 every morning I eat ½ lb. rye butter spread on two slices of bread, soaked in milk. To this milk is added one-third pint of skim cream. At noon and evening I drink a large glass of milk and 1½ pt. of cream. Altogether I eat about one and a half quarts of milk and one pint of cream a day. I have gained 15 pounds since September 22. It was recommended by my doctor. I have had tuberculosis for the last five years and it is very hard for me to gain weight.

The young lady should get all the she can while she is trying to put on weight. E. H.

I am sure a good many may profit from this letter and I thank the writer for taking the trouble to write it.

AM a girl 10 years old and I live out in the country. It will soon be Christmas, and I would like much to have a doll and a doll's baby. But either one I would be proud of. I just wonder, if some day, she will get new things for Christmas and would give me old ones for my very own?

Martha, please don't forget poor girl who wants Santa Claus some. (And maybe they have the story books.) M. B.

Wedding Preliminaries
Pastor Newton's Article

GOOD TASTE
By EMILY POST

Before the Wedding

Dear Mrs. Post:
I AM going to announce my engagement at a sit-down lunch party. What would you suggest for a centerpiece on this table? And favors?

Answer: Set your table exactly as you would for any party. It might be prettier to choose a centerpiece of white flowers, heart-shaped favors, and cakes. Or if you prefer, choose everything in pink—suggestive of a bridesmaids' luncheon.

My dear Mrs. Post: My fiance is a doctor; I was a registered nurse.

After our marriage I expect to assist him in the office. Do I address him as "John" or as "Dr. Smith" before patients? And how should he address me?

Answer: In office hours you would call him "Doctor" and speak of him to patients as "the doctor." During office hours he would call you and speak of you to patients as "Mrs. Smith" (the name by which you were known at your training school). To your friends and also to social acquaintances you would, of course, speak of him as "John" and he would speak of you as "Mary." It is always in bad taste to hear first names used between the head of any office and his assistant, and this lack of morale would be particularly flagrant in a doctor's office or surgery — no matter who the assistant might be.

Dear Mrs. Post: Mother is having a very large general tea in honor of my approaching marriage. At such a tea I understand the hostess does not take charge herself to provide over the tea table. Instead, the caterer's men take care of this detail. What is the usual procedure for a guest because there is no tea table to go to when lacking friends and feeling utterly alone?

Answer: There is no reason why you cannot have deputy hostesses if you want to, except at a very formal wedding reception. After all, a large party need not be a ceremonial one. In other words, do not forget that the correct meaning of the word formal is ceremonial. And, as I explained in this column a few weeks ago, not more than one party in about a million can truthfully be called "ceremonial."

What Makes an Efficient Home?

AITHRA HOLLAND

A Slovenly Home Defeats Its End and a Too-Orderly One Will Do Likewise—Happiness Is the Goal, Not Just Mere Technical Perfection.

By MRS. ALEXANDER S. LANGSDORF

YEARS ago Frederick Taylor, known the world over as the father of scientific management, showed the need for efficiency in industrial management. His ideas spread until now it is a commonplace feature of factory administration to study such things as the number of motions necessary to produce a given piece of work and the time rate at which production should be carried on. But alas, even here it has been found that too much efficiency may bring with it what is regarded as the curse of unemployment, and that efficiency may be pushed to the point where the law of diminishing returns exacts a toll of rising costs that nullify the gains.

CHAPTER FOURTEEN.

HARRIET told Kim that Natalie was on the beach, so he found her on the sand, clad in a white bathing suit, her legs propped up on a brightly striped beach ball. When she caught sight of Kim, she smiled. Not the smile she would have given Dick, but a smile of gratification that the busy scientist had at last been lured away from his lab.

"You're a stranger!" she greeted him as he sank down beside her. "Haven't seen you for days."

Kim was an angel and gave her the light she wanted for her cigarette. Now that she was here with him, he was beginning to be frightened at what he had made up his mind to do.

Natalie was a difficult person, she had to be handled carefully—and whether he could manage her as cleverly as she should be managed, he didn't know. His practical knowledge of women began and ended with Linda.

All the way over from the laboratory cottage he had been rehearsing what he wanted to say. Confronted with Natalie, he was tongue tied. Whatever happened, he didn't want to hurt Linda. He wanted to help her.

They talked generalities for awhile, and then he plunged into his subject abruptly, too abruptly he knew afterward.

A start, anyway.

"At least until the middle of August. The Crawfords are going to stay that long," Natalie returned. "I won't go back until they go. I like it here too much. How about you?"

"I'll be pulling out in less than a month." He wasn't getting on as he expected. She had turned the tables on him.

Lamely, he started again. "I thought you'd be going soon." Bad, he was bad, and he knew it when she shot him a sharp, disturbing glance from under her long black lashes.

"Did you? Why, I wonder?" Her voice had been friendly before. Now it was icy. Cold, impersonal.

Even in her most cordial moments, he decided, Natalie's voice didn't have the warmth that Linda's had.

QUEER how he judged every woman, every girl now by Linda. When Harriet had met him on the porch, she had thought of Linda, too, and compared them.

"I'm going to be frank with you, Natalie." He was surer on this ground. He wasn't diplomat to begin with, and it was no time starting to be one with Natalie. "I think you should leave—"

"Leave? Why on earth should I leave here? I'm crazy about the lake."

I think you understand what I mean, Natalie. I know you're a girl with more than normal intelligence.

"Just now, then, I'm horribly sub-normal. I can't think for the life of me why you want me to go."

He saw from her eyes that she did know why he wanted her to go, but she wanted him to explain in detail. All right, if that was what she wanted, she'd get her explanation!

"I think you're making Linda unhappy by staying on here."

"Dick, Linda sees you."

"She didn't. I haven't seen her to talk to for four days. I came here entirely on my own." There was no use telling her about Mrs. Abbot.

"Aren't you taking a good deal on your own shoulders, Kim? How do you know Linda is unhappy if you haven't talked to her?"

"I don't know for certain, but I'm sure her affairs and Dick's—would be smoother if you weren't here."

She laughed, a ripply, musical laugh. "Please don't try to manage other people's affairs, Kim. It isn't becoming to you. Really, I should be angry with you, but I'm not. I'm amused."

"Linda should be proud of her knight errant. And as for me, I'll leave Moon lake when I choose. I refuse to be hurried because Linda might be unhappy at my presence here. Another match, please."

He lighted her fresh cigarette for her. "Well, that's all, then, isn't it?" He had to. He shouldn't have been so abrupt.

"I suppose it is. When you go back to the house, will you tell Harriet I've finished with my sand bath, and if she wants to swim with me, she'd better hurry. And remind her to bring some matches."

KIM walked away swiftly, and when Harriet joined Natalie on the beach a few minutes later, she was dressed in her bathing suit. To take down a box of sand beside Natalie.

"Kim was funny when he came to the house with your message. What did you say to him?" Harriet tucked her hair under her green rubber cap carefully.

"It wasn't what I said to him, darling, it was what he said to me. He wanted me to leave Moon lake, because I was making Linda unhappy by staying on here with you. Dick's right. Kim's madly in love with Linda. I should have seen it before."

Harriet dug her fingers in the sand slowly. The smile that had brains? Plenty of use, my friends.

We are using them; at least, we are using some of them, every day.
We ought to understand what we are using. And in many cases they are using us. If that is the case (and it is!) we certainly ought to understand what they are doing to us. When don't intelligently employ their equipment, or when we don't use all of it, or when we become the slaves of it, we are not being the men and women we could be. There is where astrology comes in; it explains how each of these tiny cells is the reflection, or duplication, of the universe around us and how they pick up the vibration from planetary positions like ten billion little radios.

YOUR YEAR AHEAD.

Beginning June 29 of next year and continuing for some years, natives of this birth date will need to give close attention to the handling of their ways of earning a living; be on the lookout for deceptive tactics, guilefulness, feeling rather than thinking, and the risk of what you have saved or own.
Danger: June 11 to 23, and Nov. 6 to 12, 1934.

Tomorrow.

Avoid extravagance. Plan to build yourself personally and wisely.

Fried Carrots.

Split cold boiled carrots lengthwise and dip in beaten egg, then into breadcrumbs. Drop in boiling hot fat and cook until nicely brown all over. Another little change in the vegetable line.

"Gee, they're good"
medicinal, too.

THE LARGEST FARM IN THE WORLD.

The "Giant" on the North Caucasian steppe with its 610,337 acres of practically virgin soil, represents a most massive Soviet experiment in large scale agriculture. Immense tracts of land, constituting the domain of the Coven-tante, have been brought under the plough, to form the largest grain ranch in the world.

THE KARTVELS.

The white-skinned peoples of the Caucasus, whose collective name is Kartvels, claim direct descent from Japhet, son of Noah. They are a vigorous, bold race, from whom the "Caucasian" branch of the human family takes its name.

THE CHEVSURS.

This Caucasian tribe, whose name is Georgian and means "People of the Valleys," claim descent from the Crusaders settling here after their return from the Holy Land. One of their curious customs is the imprisonment of their wives and following childbirth. Beer brewing is a sacred vocation amounting to priesthood.

Repeal Asks Fair Trial

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

CASEY JONES is at the throttle of a California wine train. Spanish, French and Canadian rum fleets are about to attack our national habits at their weakest point.

Utah pressed the button that unbuttoned the Constitution.

President Roosevelt will take the tax off gasoline and put it on whisky. No matter where the tax is it is still dangerous to strike a match near it.

Authorities are confused over repeal laws. The only legal way is to dive into a snowbank and wait for a St. Bernard dog with a keg on his back.

There is no difference between repeal and prohibition. It's still the stagger plan.

All we ask is a fair trial. If we fail then the trial wasn't fair.

HOUSE PERFECTS BILL FOR BETTING ON HORSE RACES

O'Brien of St. Louis Tries to Amend Finney Measure to Include Wagering on Dogs, but Fails.

NOW ON CALENDAR FOR FINAL ACTION

Put There on Challenged Viva Voce Vote After Stormy Twenty Minutes of Consideration.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.
JEFFERSON CITY, Dec. 7.—The Florida racing bill, to legalize the pari-mutuel and certificate forms of betting on horse races, was perfected today by the House in a disorderly session, by a non-record vote of 54 to 44, which was sustained as to its accuracy by proponents of the bill. The measure now goes on the House calendar for passage.

Dissension developed among the St. Louis members when Representative O'Brien of St. Louis offered an amendment which would have included betting on dog races under the bill. The amendment was defeated.

Representative Blong of St. Louis, O'Brien's seat mate, immediately opposed the amendment and charged that O'Brien had been employed by a dog track in St. Louis County, which Blong said was operated by Anthony P. Foley. The latter operated gambling establishment in St. Louis, O'Brien did not answer the charge from the floor. Later he denied having been employed by Foley, but said he had worked for a dog track.

O'Brien's Argument.

O'Brien, in offering the amendment, said, "We have horse and dog tracks should be given an equal deal, and that the bill should not discriminate against dog racing. I have been around both horse and dog tracks," O'Brien said, "and dog racing is the most honest of all."

Representative Carroll of St. Louis opposed the amendment, declaring it was designed to kill the racing bill.

"The racing bill we had here in the regular session was killed because the dogs were in the bill," Carroll said. "St. Louis does not like dog racing."

The amendment was defeated by a viva voce vote.

Speaker Meredith called for a standing vote on perfection of the bill, and declared it perfected by a vote of 54 to 44.

Vote Challenged.

Representative Talbert of Cape Girardeau County, who opposed the bill, raised a question as to the accuracy of the count by the House clerks and demanded a roll call.

The bill was withdrawn, the roll called, then withdrawn. The order was then withdrawn, the roll called again, then withdrawn. The roll was not made until after the vote had been announced, and was not in time.

"This is just perfection of the bill," the Speaker said. "You will get a chance to vote on a roll call when the bill comes up for perfection."

The House was in disorder during most of the 20 minutes the bill was under consideration, with from 10 to 20 members asking for recognition at once, and others shouting for attention.

The bill, offered by the State revenue measure, proposes a daily license fee of $300 for tracks operated within 15 miles of St. Louis, and a daily fee of $400 for tracks operated within 15 miles of Kansas City. It also proposes a tax of 20 cents on each paid admission.

VIATRIX SHOOTS HERSELF WHILE CLEANING PISTOL

Ira Josephine Wice Taken to Los Angeles Hospital; Husband Visiting in St. Louis LOS ANGELES, Dec. 7.—Mrs. Josephine Wice, 29-year-old advertising woman and flyer, was taken to a hospital early today, shot through the breast and seriously wounded.

She told police she had shot herself accidentally while cleaning an automatic pistol. Her husband, Frank Wice, X-ray manufacturer, is in St. Louis.

Frank Wice has been visiting his mother, Mrs. Agnes Wice, 5844 Engle Avenue, for the last three months on a business trip to St. Louis. He was, he told the Post-Dispatch today, "just about ready to return" to the West coast with his 4½-year-old daughter, who has been with him, visiting her grandmother.

His wife, Wice said, is president of the Los Angeles Advertising Association for Women, formerly vice-president of the national organization of that body. In addition, he said, she is editor of publications for the University of Southern California.
